

BIO - La Shawna Griffith

La Shawna Griffith is a twenty-seven-year-old businesswoman, author and journalist from Barbados.

This poet is the current Gine On People's Choice Award Writer of the Year 2019-2020.

Griffith is no stranger to the stage and has performed at the United Nations Barbados House, during the National Independence Festival of Creative Arts (NIFCA) from 2009-2010 and released her spoken-word video "The Belch Of Racism" on IGTV..

She truly believes in being a voice for the voiceless as a hope and an inspiration.

Griffith is currently working on her fourth book Melanin Drops, being released August 2021.

WITH THIS

ABOUT CARIBBEAN WRITERS ON FACEBOOK

Caribbean Writers began as the Facebook.com presence for Seawoman's Caribbean Writing blog and has primarily attracted established and emerging Caribbean writers and lovers of West Indian literature from around the globe. Founded by Sandra Sealy on June 12 2007, it is also a hub for #photographers & #visualartists. This dynamic forum provides a safe space for Caribbean writers (or those interested in Caribbean Writers/writing) to link up and share news, resources, events, opportunities and more. MEMBERSHIP: (1,830+ members and growing from 44+ countries)

Caribbean

Writers: [www.facebook.com/groups/caribbeanwriters]www.facebook.com/groups/caribbeanwriters

The next iteration of the blog, Seawoman Chronicles: The Podcast, to be launched on World Poetry Day, will prominently feature Caribbean Writers' members and literary artists with regional roots from the Diaspora.